Simplifying the Path to Collaboration

Avaya makes it easy for enterprises to match different user profiles and communication needs with the Avaya Aura® Licensing Suites that map to how and where people work.

Matching Different Roles and Needs to the Right Tools

An enterprise is the sum of its parts, and those parts have different needs and different options when it comes to communications and collaboration. Avaya offers a complete set of collaboration tools to make sure every team member can engage, whether with their peers or their customers. Supporting the desktop user or the remote worker, the Avaya Aura® Platform and Avaya IX Workplace (Avaya Equinox) provide the productivity tools necessary for better business processes and better business results:

- Effective engagement means being responsive to customers when they need assistance and depends on having the appropriate communications interface available for any situation, whether in the workplace or on the go.
- Team productivity relies on tools designed to allow each employee to contribute their best. Efficiency improves when each employee can intuitively contribute and share their knowledge and expertise to support their peers, and the objectives of their enterprise.

The Avaya Aura Platform, a breakthrough, session-based architecture, helps to simplify complex communications networks, reduce infrastructure costs and can quickly deliver voice, video, messaging, presence, Web applications and more to employees anywhere.

The Avaya Aura platform offers engagement solutions that addresses the most important concerns for business growth and success. It provides access for any user, remote, mobile or in the office; it provides complete enterprise communication solutions for smartphones, tablets and desktop computers; it provides simple to use, on-demand meeting solutions, including video, audio and web based engagement. And it does all this on a platform that can be configured to achieve 5 9's reliability.

The Way We Work is Changing

Workers are more distributed and mobile than ever before. The ability to collaborate is essential to maintain alignment within teams, to drive decisions that minimize business latency and to innovate and establish competitive advantage. These changes must be supported by a new architecture. Avaya Aura is a unified communications platform running on virtualized operating environments, connecting both hard and soft devices, extending any employee's reach far beyond the walls of their office. Each user can determine the features they need to best achieve their objectives.

Avaya Aura Suite Licenses provide immediate benefits for any employee with simpler choices and understandable solutions. Additionally, bundling of features helps ensure each user has the capabilities they require while offering the most economical total cost of ownership (TCO) model.

Key Benefits

Productivity Features Designed for Each User's Needs

With the Suite bundles, each employee is supported by best available features that target their business needs.

Mix and Match Licensing

Suite licenses can be mixed within any enterprise to help ensure that the right people are accessible and empowered to rapidly make well-informed decisions — anywhere, anytime.

End-to-End Solution

Through end-to-end collaboration, mobile and remote workers, BYOD, and web-based content sharing, the Suites enable all users, helping simplify how they do their jobs and accelerating your business.

Lower TCO

Purchasing licenses as a suite offers significant savings for the enterprise over previous offers where licenses were purchased a la carte. Mixing Avaya Aura Suite Licenses per enterprise means only paying for the features that you need to assure the right level of collaboration for everyone.
